HOW TO PLAY THE GAME

Once your two ladder toss targets are assembled, place them in a clear open area and spaced apart 25 ft (10 paces). Beginners or younger players may place the targets closer together. Make sure your surroundings are free from non-playing persons or structures to the sides or back of the targets, as wild shots can cause damage and/or bodily harm.

Play is between two teams. One player from each team will stand next to the ladder when it's their turn to toss. DO NOT stand next to the ladder when the opposing team is tossing towards you. Decide who will go first, then alternate turns throwing with your opponent. You throw one bolo, then your opponent, then you, then your opponent, etc. When all three bolos from each team have been tossed to the other side, add up the scores. If you earned the most points in that single round, your partner will throw first in the next round.

HOW TO SCORE THE GAME

Points are scored when a tossed bolo hits and stays wrapped around one of the three colored rungs: three points on the top rung, two points on the middle rung and one point on the bottom rung.

Add up how many points you earned and compare your score to your opponents. Each team's points cancel each other out so that only one team can score per round.

For example, if you scored five points and your opponent scored three points, you will add two points to your overall score and your team will throw first in the next round. If both you and your opponent scored six points each, no points will be awarded and whoever threw first in the last round will throw first again. Indicate your team's score using the score tracking pipe on the ladder.

A game is won when a team reaches 21 points with a lead of 2 or more points.
